

Joe Barkley

Joseph Barkley is Director of the Financial Leadership Practice of Academy Leadership, LLC and conducts seminars, workshops and “Boot Camps” in leadership, ethics, focus and alignment and strategic planning. He is a retired corporate executive with over 46 years of General Management and Financial Management experience, having held senior financial management and operations management positions with American International Group, Swiss RE, Chase Manhattan, CIGNA, and American Express.

Joe is a veteran of 15 years of service in the U S Army with two combat tours in Vietnam and held senior financial management positions in the Army. Joe is an adjunct professor at Holy Family University in Philadelphia, teaching Financial Management and International Business.

Joe is a graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, NY, and has a MBA from the University of Scranton. Joe and his wife reside in Newtown, PA.