

Theresa Shea earned her BS Accounting (Summa Cum Laude) and MS Taxation from Drexel University's LeBow School of Business, where she had her first university teaching experience as a graduate teaching assistant.

Theresa has had a varied career, having held positions in large corporate tax departments as well as at small and regional CPA firms. Before arriving at Widener, Theresa had been an adjunct instructor of accounting at a number of local colleges and universities.

Theresa currently teaches Advanced Accounting and Auditing at Widener University.