

Paul Barber – Presentation Description

Paul Barber explores how your CEO can benefit from the use of Corporate Performance Management (CPM) software both within the Office of Finance and outside of it. Learn how senior management can capitalize on not only historical but also forward looking data from all departments within an organization to make better, more strategic business decisions.